SUMMARY PROSPECTUS OCTOBER 31, 2017

Before you invest, you may want to review the Fund's Statutory Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information ("SAI") which contain information about the Fund and its risks. You can find the Fund's Statutory Prospectus, SAI and other information about the Fund online at http://www.olsteinfunds.com/how_to_invest.html. You can also get this information at no cost by calling (800) 799-2113, by sending an e-mail request to info@olsteinfunds.com or by asking any financial adviser, bank or broker-dealer who offers shares of the Fund. The Fund's Statutory Prospectus and SAI, both dated October 31, 2017, are incorporated by reference into this Summary Prospectus (that is, they are legally a part of this Summary Prospectus).

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

The Fund's primary investment objective is long-term capital appreciation and its secondary objective is income.

FEES AND EXPENSES

The following table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund. You may qualify for sales charge discounts if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $50,000 in The Olstein Funds. More information about these and other discounts is available from your financial adviser and in the Fund's Statutory Prospectus under the section entitled "Shareholder Information" on page 38, and in the Fund's SAI under the section entitled "Distributor" beginning on page 30. The table below does not reflect any transaction fees that may be charged by a financial intermediary or commissions that a shareholder may be required to pay directly to its financial intermediary when buying and selling Adviser Class shares.

² The Transfer Agent charges a fee (currently $15) for each wire redemption and for redemption proceeds sent by overnight courier.

⁴ OCM has contractually agreed to waive or reduce all or a portion of its management fee and, if necessary, to bear certain other expenses to limit the annualized expenses of each of Adviser Class, Class A shares and Class C shares of the Fund to 1.35%, exclusive of 12b-1 fees, shareholder servicing fees, acquired fund fees and expenses, taxes, interest and non-routine expenses or costs, including but not limited to, those relating to reorganizations, litigation, conducting shareholder meetings and liquidations (collectively, "non-routine expenses"). OCM may seek reimbursement of its waived fees and expenses borne for a three-year period following such fee waivers and expense reimbursements, provided that the reimbursement by the Fund to OCM will not cause total operating expenses, exclusive of 12b-1 fees, shareholder servicing fees, acquired fund fees and expenses, taxes, interest, and non-routine expenses, to exceed the expense cap as then may be in effect for the Fund, or was in place at the time of the fee waiver or expense reimbursement. This contractual fee waiver will remain in effect until at least October 28, 2018 and may not be terminated by OCM during its term.

EXPENSE EXAMPLE

The following examples are intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The examples assume that you invest $10,000 in each class of the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of each period, unless otherwise indicated. The examples also assume that you earn a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Please note that the one-year numbers below are based on the Fund's net expenses resulting from the expense limitation agreement described above. The examples below do not reflect any transaction fees that may be charged by a financial intermediary or commissions that a shareholder may be required to pay directly to its financial intermediary when buying and selling Adviser Class shares. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Adviser Class	$138	$ 433	$ 749	$1,645
Class A	$705	$1,032	$1,382	$2,365
Class C (assuming sale of all shares at end of period)	$339	$ 739	$1,265	$2,705
Class C (assuming no sale of shares)	$239	$ 739	$1,265	$2,705

PORTFOLIO TURNOVER

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the expense example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 64.90% of the average value of its portfolio.

PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

The Fund seeks to achieve its objectives by investing primarily in common stocks of small- and mid-sized companies ("small-cap" or "mid-cap" stocks) that the Fund's investment adviser, Olstein Capital Management, L.P. ("OCM"), believes are selling at a significant discount to private market value. The Fund uses several valuation methods to determine private market value, all of which emphasize expected future free cash flow (after capital expenditures and working capital needs). For purposes of this investment policy, the Fund considers "small- and mid-sized companies" to be those with market capitalization values (share price multiplied by the number of shares of common stock outstanding) within the range represented in the Russell 2500™ Index (as of August 31, 2017, the Index's weighted average market capitalization was approximately $4.629 billion).

OCM follows an accounting-driven, value-oriented approach that emphasizes looking behind the numbers of financial statements based on the belief that the price of a common stock may not reflect the intrinsic value of the issuing company's underlying business. OCM believes that the management of small- to mid-sized companies face unique strategic choices, challenges and problems, often as a result of the company's size or expectations for growth. The Fund may employ a distinctive approach; opportunistically engaging as an activist investor in small- to mid-sized companies where OCM perceives that such an approach is likely to add value to the investment process. As a shareholder activist, OCM may invest in small- to mid-sized public companies that it believes are substantially undervalued, often seeking to influence management to undertake specific steps to increase shareholder value. In such situations, OCM will normally approach company management on a constructive basis offering strategic advice and transactional experience. The Fund may also provide additional exposure to activist situations by investing in companies that engage in the same manner as an activist investor or by investing in companies owned by other activist investors or private equity investors.

When evaluating the value of stocks for the Fund, OCM undertakes an in-depth analysis of financial statements, as it seeks to identify early signs of potential changes in a company's ability to generate sustainable free cash flow as well as its potential to grow that may not be recognized by the financial markets. When determining sustainable free cash flow and the quality of earnings, OCM assesses the accounting practices and assumptions used to construct financial statements against the economic reality of the company's business. OCM believes that in-depth analysis of financial statements reveals the success of a company's strategy, the sustainability of its performance and the impact of management decisions on future cash flow. OCM further believes that such an analysis is more useful to an investor than management forecasts or earnings guidance.

OCM believes stock prices often fall below a company's private market value as a result of a short-term focus on, or an overreaction to, negative information regarding the company or its industry, or negative overall market psychology. The Fund seeks to capitalize on market volatility and the valuation extremes specific to a company by purchasing its stock at a discount to OCM's estimate of private market value, which could result in above-average capital appreciation if such discount is corrected by market forces or other catalysts that change perceptions.

The Fund's bottom-up analysis seeks to identify companies with unique business fundamentals and a competitive edge, which usually provide a greater predictability of future free cash flow. Companies with free cash flow have the potential to enhance shareholder value by increasing dividends, repurchasing shares, reducing debt, engaging in strategic acquisitions, withstanding an economic downturn without adopting harmful short term strategies or being an attractive acquisition target.

The Fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in foreign securities that are traded in U.S. dollars, but the Fund's foreign investments will be limited to investments in developed countries, rather than countries with developing or emerging markets.

MAIN RISKS

There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its objectives. Each of the risks listed below has the potential (individually or in any combination) to affect adversely the net asset value of the Fund and cause you to lose money.

Stock Market Risk: The Fund is subject to the risk that stock prices may decline over short or even extended periods of time.

Management Risk: The investment techniques used by OCM may not produce the desired results and cause the Fund to underperform its benchmarks or mutual fund peers.

Small- and Mid-Sized Company Risk: Small- and mid-sized companies may be more vulnerable to adverse business or economic events than larger, more established companies. In particular, these companies may have an unproven or narrow technological base and limited product lines, distribution channels, and market and financial resources, and small capitalization companies also may be dependent on entrepreneurial management, making the companies more susceptible to certain setbacks and reversals.

Value Investing Style Risk: The Fund uses a value-oriented investment approach. However, a particular value stock may not increase in price as anticipated by OCM (and may actually decline in price) if other investors fail to recognize the stock's value or if a catalyst that OCM believes will increase the price of the stock does not occur or does not affect the price of the stock in the manner or to the degree anticipated.

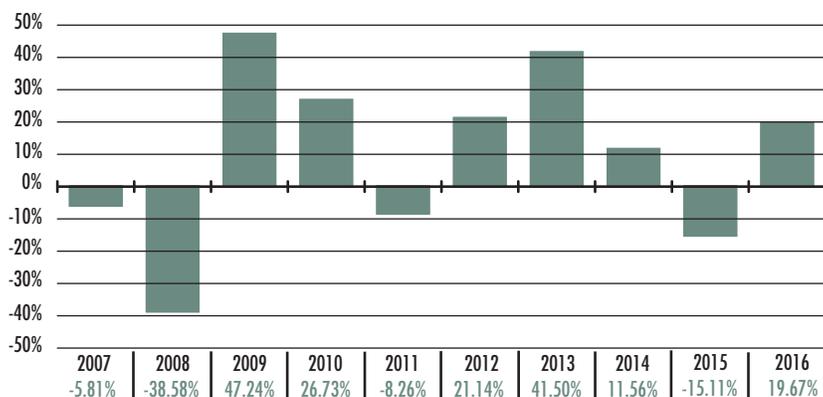

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity risk is the risk that certain securities may be difficult or impossible to sell at the time and price that the Fund would like to sell the security, which can have a negative impact on Fund performance. The Fund may invest in small- and mid-sized companies, which may have a smaller "float" (the number of shares that are available to trade) and attract less market interest, and, therefore, may be subject to liquidity risk.

Foreign Investing Risk: Investing in foreign companies typically involves more risks than investing in U.S. companies. These risks can increase the potential for losses in the Fund and may include risks related to currency exchange rate fluctuations, country or government specific issues (for example, terrorism, war, social and economic instability, currency devaluations, and restrictions on foreign investment or the movement of assets), unfavorable trading practices, less government supervision, less publicly available information, limited trading markets and greater volatility.

PERFORMANCE

The bar chart and table shown below illustrate the variability of the Fund's returns. The bar chart indicates the risks of investing in Class C shares of the Fund by showing the changes in the performance of the Class C shares of the Fund from year to year (on a calendar year basis). The table shows how the average annual returns of the Adviser Class, Class A and Class C shares for the one-, five- and ten-year periods, or since inception, as applicable, compare with those of the Russell 2500TM Value Index and Russell 2500TM Index. The Russell 2500TM Value Index and Russell 2500TM Index represent broad measures of market performance. The Fund's past performance (before and after taxes) is not necessarily an indication of how the Fund will perform in the future. Updated performance information is available at no cost by visiting <http://www.olsteinfunds.com> or by calling (800) 799-2113.

¹ The 1 Year total return figures for Class C assume that the shareholder redeemed at the end of the first year and paid the CDSC of 1.00%. The average annual total returns for Class C shown for 5 Years and 10 Years do not include the CDSC because there is no CDSC if shares are held longer than 1 year.

² The total return figures for Class A include the maximum front-end sales charge of 5.50% imposed on purchases.

³ Since inception May 11, 2015.

After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Your actual after-tax returns depend on your particular tax situation and may differ from those shown. In certain cases, the figure representing Return After Taxes on Distributions and Sale of Fund Shares may be higher than the other return figures for the same period. A higher after-tax return results when a capital loss occurs upon redemption and provides an assumed tax deduction that benefits the investor. These after-tax return figures do not apply to you if you hold your Fund shares through a tax-advantaged arrangement such as a 401(k) plan or individual retirement account ("IRA"). The Fund's past performance, before and after taxes, is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future. After-tax returns are shown for Class C shares only and after-tax returns for other classes will vary.
